BILL TO CONTROL MILK BEATEN BY ONE VOTE

AUGUST 15 SET TENTATIVE DATE TO END SESSION

Supreme Court Enlargement
Listed No. 1 on Plan
For Consideration

ECONOMY IS STRESSED

Petition Planned to Force
Judiciary Reform Vote

WASHINGTON, April 23 — (UP) — Democratic congressional leaders formulated a four-point legislative plan today which, it was hoped, would hasten adjournment of congress and fulfill President Roosevelt's economy, supreme court, and government reorganization proposals.

The plan still was in the discussion stage, but it had the serious consideration of both senate and house leaders, an administration spokesman said.

May Adjourn August 15

Its purpose was to adjourn congress August 15 with the following measures passed:

1. The supreme court enlargement program.
2. Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation for reorganization of the government establishment to increase efficiency.
3. All appropriation bills. These measures would be passed as quickly as possible while White House economy pressure is strong.
4. Wage and hour regulatory legislation. In some quarters, however, there was the possibility that these bills might be delayed until next session.

Discarded, would be numerous authorization bills endangering the president's budgetary plans. These would include the Wagner housing bill, the Bankhead-Jones farm tenancy bill, the Harrison educational aid bill and flood control and rivers and harbors projects.

Some of these, it was admitted, might be passed in drastically revised form, carrying comparatively small appropriations.

May Use Petition

A proposed schedule for legislation has reached the point at which certain house leaders are prepared, if necessary, to expedite the supreme court program by resorting to a house petition. In addition they are working to complete action on all appropriation bills, including the $1,500,000,000 work relief bill by May 15.

LEGAL GUARDIAN APPOINTED FOR 'ATOM INFANT'

ALBIA, Ia., April 23—(UP)—Publisher K. C. Cramm today assumed the duties of legal guardian for Charles Peter Johnston, "atom baby" who weighed less than 12 ounces when he was born. The infant's survival was hailed as a "miracle of science." He weighed 25 ounces today, and was gaining rapidly on a diet of steadily increasing amounts of milk and decreasing amounts of whisky. City officials announced $265 has been pledged to pay expenses of care in the hospital to which he was removed from the makeshift incubator in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston.

Cramm was assigned to handle any possible advertising or motion picture contracts which might add to the parents' meagre income from WPA employment.

ELAINE BARRIE GRANTED DIVORCE FROM BARRYMORE

LOS ANGELES, April 23—(UP)—Elaine Barrie, who wanted John Barrymore so badly that she chased him half way across the continent, divorced him today. She charged cruelty, and told Judge Walter S. Gates he was jealous. She did not ask alimony.

HOUSE REJECTS MEASURE TO FIX PRICE IN STATE

Hummell, Fairfield County, to Ask Re-consideration
Early Next Week

69 SOLONS FAVOR ACT

Wintzer Charges Co-ops
Sponsoring Action

Clark Hunsicker, Pickaway
county house member, supported the Hummell measure, which lost by a single vote.

COLUMBUS, April 23—(UP)—Backers of the Hummell milk price-fixing bill today canvassed support for an early re-consideration of the measure after its defeat in the house by a single vote.

Despite successful efforts of proponents to obtain two readings of the roll, the bill was rejected during a turbulent session yesterday, 69 to 47. Seventy votes are required for passage.

Rep. E. R. Hummell, D., Fairfield, author of the bill, said he would seek re-consideration early next week.

Leading the fight against the measure was Rep. Carl F. Wintzer, D., Auglaize, whose bill to license milk distributors and provide for limited control in the industry without price fixing also was killed.

Backed by Co-Operatives

Rep. Wintzer charged the Hummell bill was not supported by farmers but by managers of milk co-operatives who sought to artificially boost prices.

"Mussolini and Hitler are regimenting the people with the iron hand of dictatorship," Wintzer said. "But their methods have nothing on what this bill proposes to do in the milk industry."

Rep. Willis I. Cory, R., Seneca, also opposed the bill. He said it was similar to old Burk act which, he contended, broke down and permitting the large Cleveland distributors to "chisel" with immunity.

When the bill finally came to a vote the chamber was thrown into complete confusion with proponents and opponents hurrying (Continued on Page Two)

In Gable Case

CENTRAL figure in the mail fraud trial of Mrs. Violet Wells Norton, English woman, and Jack L. Smith, reputed private detective, accused of sending threatening letters to Clark Gable, screen actor, is Gwendoline Norton, 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Norton. The English woman claims Gable is Gwendoline's father. Gable denied it repeatedly, off and on the stand.

JURY TO DECIDE FRAUD CHARGES IN GABLE CASE

LOS ANGELES, April 23—(UP)—A jury of middle-aged men was to decide today whether Mrs. Violet Wells Norton used the mails to defraud when she accused Clark Gable of being the father of her child and demanded money for the girl's support.

Defense lawyers reached the end of their case with Mrs. Norton still insisting that the handsome movie star was the same Frank Billings who seduced her in Billerica, England, in 1922, when she was a farmer's mistress and he a dashing young poultryman.

Gable denied he was ever in England or that he ever before had seen the double-chinned Essex housewife, who is 47 years old. But Mrs. Norton would not be swayed from her opinion.

SENATORS SPLIT WITH COURT ACT TEST VOTE NEAR

Fate of President's Plan May Be Decided When Committee Ballots

HEARINGS END FRIDAY

Five Members Uncertain of Their Decisions

WASHINGTON, April 23—(UP)—The senate judiciary committee today concludes a seven week hearing on President Roosevelt's supreme court enlargement bill during which it heard 75 witnesses talk for 200 hours without swaying a definite majority either for or against the measure.

Net result of the public hearings by the 18-member committee appeared to be:

1. The votes of two senators as yet uncommitted on the bill will decide whether it will be reported favorably or unfavorably to the senate. Opposition leaders claimed this was a definite gain for them.

Final Outcome Doubtful

2. The senate is so evenly divided that a handful of uncommitted senators can turn the final outcome either way, although both sides claim a majority.

3. Opposition leaders, confident of their strength, will not filibuster against the bill on the senate floor according to their present plans. A final vote is likely in June.

In general, opinion among administration leaders was that there had been little change in the committee or the senate as a result of the hearings, but leading foes of the bill asserted they had made definite gains.

Seven Against

The committee line-up as it looked forward to secret debate of the bill next Tuesday showed seven definite votes against any increase in the supreme court.

Six votes definitely were lined up for the present bill calling for an increase of the court possibly to 15 members.

Five committeemen were definitely eager for compromise and were uncommitted on the bill.

EIGHTH GRADERS OF CITY, COUNTY UNDERGO TESTS

Friday was test day for Circleville and Pickaway county eighth grade pupils.

Eighty year tests were given in the city schools and at six centers throughout the county. The centers were Wayne, Muhlenberg, Scioto, Washington, Ashville and New Holland. The examinations required two hours.

Scored tests are to be returned to the county school office not later than Monday. Awards will be presented those who rank in the upper 25 percent. State awards are given those in the high one percent.

Several local witnesses will be called. Madden is at liberty under $2,500 bond after denying the charge in U. S. Commissioner Forrest Claypool's court in Chillicothe. Madden is accused of trying to obtain $1,500 from his neighbor, Miss Jimma Dungan.

YOUNGSTOWN, April 23.—(UP)—"Mickey" Mouse or one of his distant cousins stole the show from Actress Jane Cowl as she appeared in "First Lady" at the Park theater here last night.

SLOT MACHINES REACH DEADLINE

Chillicothe Ministers to Act
Unless Devices Are Removed

CHILLICOTHE, April 23—Friday was the deadline established by ministers to oust slot machines if authorities fail to take action.

FLAMES DAMAGE MAY PROPERTY, S. WASHINGTON

Damage estimated at $100, resulted from a fire Friday morning at the May property, 738 S. Washington street.

Sparks from the chimney ignited a shingle roof. Embers falling through the roof spread the flames to a closed stairway in the home. Speedy work by firemen prevented greater damage to the property.

The home is owned by John H. May. He and his brother, Simon, reside in one side of the property, and Mrs. Ella Tegardin in the other.

W. B. Watts, E. Mound street, was standing in the doorway of the home talking with Mrs. Tegardin when a neighbor shouted to them the roof was burning. Mr. Watts called the department.

There is no insurance on the property.

Fireman Clint Strawser suffered a bump on the nose. "Either the wind, or something, closed a door just as I was going through it," the fireman said.

"That bump is on exactly the same spot where my nose has been broken twice," Strawser said.

471 LICENSES TO WED ISSUED IN PROBATE COURT

Annual report of probate court for last year, completed Friday, shows 471 marriage licenses issued. June held the monthly record with 57. The lowest month was December when only 23 licenses were issued. Only nine licenses were issued to colored folk during the year.

The annual report of the department, sent to the secretary of state, has covered the periods ending April 1 in previous years. This year the time was changed from April to December.

Twenty-three guardianships were issued during the year, 12 to minors and 11 to incompetent persons. There were four adoptions, four trusteeships and 15 miscellaneous actions handled in court, two of which were condemnation proceedings.

During the year, there were 59 wills probated, five authenticated copies filed, 50 letters testamentary, 56 letters of administration, 14 letters of administration with the wills annexed issued, 25 estates released from administration, and 103 estates closed.

Eleven persons, 10 men and one woman, were found insane by the court. Four boys and one girl were committed to reform schools during the year.

ARREST CLEARS THEFT OF CARS IN THREE CITIES

Earl Bennett, 25, Taken to Washington C. H. to Face Charges

CAPTURED LOITERING

13 Automobile Keys Found in Trousers Pockets

Recent automobile thefts in Washington C. H., Mt. Sterling and Wilmington were believed cleared here Thursday afternoon by the arrest of Earl Bennett, 25, of the Fayette county city.

Bennett was arrested for investigation by Patrolman Fred Fitzpatrick. The officer received a call about the man from Mrs. John Blosser. Mrs. Blosser was calling at the Marfield home on E. Main street, Fitzpatrick said, when Bennett was seen loitering about her car, parked in front of the home. He walked away from the auto when the women rapped on the window.

Carried 13 Car Keys

Bennett was arrested on Washington street and taken to the police department for questioning. Police found the man had 13 auto keys.

Chief Jack Wolf and Capt. Harley Haggard of Washington C. H. were notified about the arrest and came to Circleville to question Bennett.

Chief Wolf said Bennett admitted five auto thefts, none of which was in Pickaway county. He said the cars were taken, driven until the gasoline supply was exhausted, then abandoned. One of the cars, the chief said, was abandoned Thursday between Circleville and Washington C. H.

Bennett was wearing a pair of new shoes when arrested. A check of local stores revealed they were taken from Stiffers. Bennett was returned to Washington C. H. in his stocking feet.

ACCIDENT FACTS TOLD TO CHIEF BY CAR DRIVER

Police Chief William McCrady announced Thursday afternoon the car involved in the school safety patrol accident at Court and Corwin streets was driven by Miss May Hudnell, E. Mound street.

The police chief said Miss Hudnell informed him she stopped after the accident, inquired about the child and left when she was told the little girl was not hurt. She told the chief the manner in which the flags were operated caused her to believe she was to drive past the patrol, McCrady said.

The child struck by the auto was Norma Jean Spangler, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spangler, 617 Elm avenue. She suffered a cut on the right arm.

W. F. FLEMING, 74, COUNTY NATIVE DEAD IN TULSA

William F. Fleming, 74, Wayne township native, died Friday in Tulsa, Okla., where he had lived as a rancher for 30 years. Heart disease after an attack of influenza caused death.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Florence Dowden, Wayne township, and Mrs. Irene Kohl. His wife, Eva Steeley Dowden, died in 1906. Of his immediate family, he is survived by a brother, Mack, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Dowden, both of Wayne township.

Mr. Fleming was a son of John and Irene Rector Fleming, pioneer settlers in Wayne township.

The body is expected to arrive in Circleville for burial Monday. Time and place of funeral services will be announced later.

Divine, "Wife" in Discord?

FAITHFUL MARY

FATHER DIVINE

WHILE New York police sent out an eight-state alarm for the arrest of George Baker, alias Father Divine, Harlem cult "Messiah", on a charge of acting in concert with three Negroes in connection with the beating of a process server, reports circulated that there was discord between Father Divine and his "so-called wife", Faithful Mary. One New York paper stated that Faithful Mary had left Divine's Harlem kingdom as a result of a dispute over money matters and had gone to her own "peace" hotel at High Falls, near Kingston, N. Y. Father Divine was arrested Thursday.

Faithful Follow Negro 'God' to Gotham Jail

NEW YORK, April 23.—(UP)—Father Divine looked down on 1,500 of his "faithful children" from a strange "Heaven" today—A "Heaven" with bars on the window and an iron cot for a bed.

The "faithful" were assembled outside police headquarters to shout encouragement to their "God" who was in jail.

The father had been jailed on a charge of felonious assault in connection with the near fatal stabbing of a white man who accompanied a process server to his "Heaven No. 1" in Harlem.

Police found the bald-headed negro hiding behind a furnace in the basement of a house in Milford, Conn. He had tried to "invigilize" himself, but when that failed, he raised his right hand and said:

"Peace, it's wonderful."

Visit Police Station

When members of the "flock" heard that the father was occupying No. 1 cell, usually reserved for the city's No. 1 guests, they hurried to police headquarters in automobiles, on street cars and in subway trains.

"Now we have a righteous government, for God is reigning in the land," they chanted to the tune of the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

"God" heard them and sent word by his attorney, Arthur Madison, that "I'm happy that my children come to keep me company."

Through the night the "faithful" patrolled the streets. A cordon of 30 patrolmen guarded entrances. A special guard was placed outside the fathers cell.

MOVE FOR LONE HOUSE IN OHIO REACHES COURT

COLUMBUS, April 23 — (UP)—The new Ohio single-house legislature league, organized to campaign for a one-chamber general assembly, filed incorporation papers with the secretary of state today.

Registering as a non-profit corporation, the league listed these incorporators: State Representative George J. Harter, Akron, president of the group; State Representative Lady Huml, Cleveland, co-author with Harter and others of one-house proposals now pending in the legislature; Norman Ford, Columbus, secretary, and Professor Harley Walker, of Ohio State university, one of the earliest sponsors of the single-house movement in Ohio.

Henry G. Binns, Columbus attorney and a member of the league's board of directors, was named as agent of the corporation.

U. S. Senator Vic Donahey is honorary president of the organization. Honorary vice presidents are Congressman Harold G. Mosier, Cleveland and Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati.

Although the league's plan for a single chamber of 100 members has been presented in the present legislature, in a resolution proposing submission of a constitutional amendment to the voters next November, leaders of the organization said they would proceed with plans to place the proposal on the ballot, probably next year, in initiative petitions.

Baby-Bride's Husband Arrested In Tennessee

MADISONVILLE, Tenn., April 23.—(UP)—Geneva Hamby, child bride of the Cumberland mountains, was "a'cryn' an' a'carrin' on" today because "thuh law" had taken away her 34-year-old husband, raw-boned Homer Peel.

The 11-year-old girl protested that "ah love mah man," but Sheriff S. B. Latimore rapped on the door of the honeymoon cabin high in the hills and arrested the gangling bridegroom on a charge of violating Tennessee's recently-enacted "child bride" law.

"Cain't see why you low-county folks cain't leave decent married folks alone," Peel argued as he was led off to the county jail. "Neva loves me an' ah'll take good care of her."

"Thuh paper fer our weddin' was wrote jest right down thar at Madisonville an' we was hitched by a preachin' reverend. We ain't done nothin' an' thar's no right fer you folks to go a 'lavin' on us."

Clerk Arrested, Too

An hour earlier, Fred Payne, clerk of Monroe county, who issued the license, also was arrested. He was released on his own recognizance, after he had been charged with issuing a license without first having ages of the contracting parties sworn to.

Trouble for the honeymooners began when Annie Hamby, 32-year-old unmarried mother of six children, hitch-hiked from Decatur.

KE DEMANDS CRITICAL BOOK BE WITHDRAWN

"Coronation Commentary"

Bitter in Attack On Windsor, Wally

LIBEL IS THREATENED

'Conflict With Baldwin Cited
in Dennis' Novel

LONDON, April 23 — (UP) — The Duke of Windsor, thoroughly angry after months of critical and intimate discussion of his life in British publications, has demanded withdrawal of the newest best seller about him.

The senior partner of the duke's solicitors, Allen and Overy, told the United Press that they demanded that the leading publishing firm of William Heinemann, Ltd., publisher of "Coronation Commentary" by Geoffrey Dennis, withdraw the book from circulation and publish a suitable apology on the ground that it libels the duke.

In the event that the demand was refused, the spokesman said, a writ for libel would be issued. Heinemann refused to discuss the incident or to admit receipt of the demand.

Published April 12

Dennis' book was published April 12. It was merciless in its criticism of the duke who is bound to silence by his position. Dennis is an author of some distinction. In addition he has been since 1931 editor and chief of the document section of the League of Nations secretariat at Geneva.

The London offices of the league told the United Press today that Dennis had given three months' notice of resignation and that the resignation had just taken effect. It was added that the resignation had nothing to do with publication of the book, and that Dennis soon would attend educational conferences in Australia and New Zealand as representative of the league secretary general.

In Dennis' book were such things as this:

"He left this land with kingly dignity and repaired to the more welcome company of rich American Jewesses. . . he was a tragic, broken man, but off to the sun and white snow (he went) with full trunks and full pockets. . . until his marriage (to Mrs. Wallis Simpson) was mooted they had no notion how to get rid of him. She who they pretended was disaster was in fact a God send. Her two divorces were a gift from heaven."

Refers to Friends

The reference to "rich American Jewesses" was to friends whom the Duke saw in Austria after his abdication.

The book spoke of his conflict with Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and continued:

"There were other things. Things done and said in infatuation, his lover's prodigality, his king's rage against those who defied her to him, things left undone in his infatuation, left neglected. . . irregular hours, irregular habits, muddling, fuddling, meddling."

It was understood that the Duke objected most strongly to the first and second chapters of the book — "Edward VIII" and "Abdication."

It has sold widely among the sort of people who criticized American papers for publishing facts about the Duke's romance with Mrs. Simpson.

But there had been clear intimations that the Duke was becoming roused to the point of a fight against the comments on him and Mrs. Simpson by British publications.

Solicitors Allen and Overy, representing the Duke, recently exacted an abject apology from a London newspaper which reported that he paid a visit at St. Wolfgang to a foreign actor and the actor's daughter.

Despite this, British publications have continued to publish intimate stories about him and Mrs. Simpson.

Supreme Court Enlargement
Listed No. 1 on Plan
For Consideration

was being prodded to hurry its drafting a bill. Leaders are working for a complete measure which can be pushed toward passage before summer.

Behind the maneuver lay the threat against the economy program of a prolonged congressional session. Leaders said that if congress remains here until fall it was doubtful that the president could win out.

It was pointed out the long sessions of congress have always developed strong "pressure" blocs. Fighting for various sectional authorization measures, these groups might be able to put through legislation throwing the president's budget out of line by $1,000,000, 000 instead of a net $418,000,000 as at present.

House leaders have been assured that senate action on the president's court plan—when it reaches the senate floor, regardless of the judiciary committee decision—will not be delayed by a filibuster. On that premise they are hopeful of house action a few weeks after the senate acts.

218 Names Required

Failure of the house judiciary committee to approve the bill at an early date will result in a vote forcing petition being given tacit leadership approval, it was learned. The signatures of 218 members could take the bill from the committee.

Meanwhile, the budget-economy fight in congress was developing along two major lines.

In the senate, Sen. James F. Byrnes, D., S. C., fought for a reduction to $1,000,000,000 of the president's $1,500,000,000 work relief program with states financially able to carry a share of the total load.

She swore the warrants before Justice of the Peace G. W. Kimbrough. Peel was said to have "wilfully, unlawfully and fraudulently signed an application for a marriage license, giving the age of one of the contracting parties as 18 when the said party, Geneva Hamby, was only 11 years of age and known to be only 11 by said Homer Peel."

Attorney General Beecher Witt said the bridegroom would be granted a preliminary hearing May 30. Witt also has filed a bill for an annulment of the marriage. It will be argued June 7.

about the house in an attempt to line up votes.
Many members, particularly on the Republican side, who voted for the bill later changed their votes in protest against what they termed the "strongarm tactics" of the bill's backers in delaying the roll-call while support was being canvassed.

At one point the bill had sufficient votes to pass but several members took advantage of the delay at the last minute and changed their votes to "no."
The bill would have set up a five-member commission composed of a producer, a distributor-producer, a retailer store representative, a consumer and a distributor to set up marketing areas, provide for the disposition or surplus milk and levy fines against violators of the act.

Police asked Happy Heart, an under-sized negro with a shiny bald head, who was the leader of the demonstration.

"Nobody is in charge," said Happy Heart, "but we are in constant communication with God and he is directing our activities."

LARGER CITIES TO BENEFIT BY NEW RELIEF ACT

Excess Classified Tax Funds To Be Divided For Municipalities

INSURGENTS TO MOVE

Senate Ready to Offer New Substitute Measure

COLUMBUS, April 28—(UP)—With the relief crisis in Ohio's larger cities temporarily averted by hasty passage of Huml stop-gap bill, senate insurgent forces today began a final drive to slash approximately $5,000,000 from the general appropriations bill to pay the state's share of poor aid in all counties.

Backers of the Huml bill, which was rushed through both houses yesterday at the request of Gov. Davey, admitted the measure would be of practically no benefit to the smaller counties where classified intangible tax collection were unsubstantial.

The bill authorizes county budget commission to divert to municipalities and townships for relief purposes revenues derived from taxes on the income of stocks, bonds and mortgages in excess of the amount allowed for in this year's county budgets.

To Offer Substitute
Although most legislators said they felt the Huml bill would meet relief needs for several months until a special session was held, senate insurgent leaders announced they would offer a substitute measure for the $89,000,000 appropriations bill, which was recommended for passage by the senate finance committee last night, providing for deep cuts in practically all state departments to finance relief.

The insurgents, led by Sen. Horace W. Baggott, D., Montgomery, chief lieutenant of Lieut. Gov. Paul P. Yoder, scored at least a moral victory before the bill was reported out last night when they obtained approval of amendments providing for 10 percent cuts in all communication and transportation items.

No estimate could be made of the savings that would be effected by the reductions, but Sen. Baggott said he doubted if the savings would offset the $297,785 added to the bill by the senate committee. The house committee previously added $665,861, bringing total committee increases to $963,646.

Sen. Baggott said that inasmuch as the senate group increased the total, it was "plain that two opposite views exist."

Wants Reductions
"The administration group doesn't want reductions, but increases," he said. "We, on the other hand, believe the state could live within its income by careful and fair reductions to take care of relief without the necessity of new taxes."

Sen. Baggott said the substitute bill would be ready by Saturday. The committee session, marked by frequent clashes between the two factions, climaxed two weeks of hearings during which appropriations were slashed and restored again.

FREED AND LADS SCHEDULED FOR SHOW AT GRAND

Several years ago Carl Freed heard two boys playing "Home, Sweet Home" on the harmonica. While their harmony wasn't exactly according to music, nevertheless they fascinated the former stage comedian and orchestra leader.

"If two boys can get harmony on the harmonica why not a full band?" reasoned Freed. He set about learning the harmonica and teaching it to his orchestra members. A manufacturing firm heard of his efforts and sent him something new in mouth harps — a bass chord harp. Freed used it to good advantage.

His act completed he went on the road. Carl Freed and His Harmonica Lads became the sensation of the vaudeville stage.

Freed and his boys are appearing.

TAYLOR AND DUNNE

The play that made Robert Taylor a star on the screen will be presented in the Radio Theatre on Monday, April 26, with Taylor and Irene Dunne in the leading roles.

It is "Magnificent Obsession" which was dramatized from the novel by Lloyd Douglas and produced in the movies by Universal. Robert Taylor was given his first starring role in this picture which he played opposite Irene Dunne and so great was its success at the box office that Taylor was immediately cast for more starring parts and his success assured. The play, produced for Radio Theatre by Cecil B. DeMille, will be broadcast over the Columbia network at 9 p. m.

Prior to his appearance in "Magnificent Obsession" Taylor was listed in one of the annuals of the movie industry as an actor who "sings, plays the cello and does radio work." Since then he hasn't had much time for cello playing and most of his radio work has been done as a star in the Radio Theatre.

ARCTIC AIRLINE TO BRIDGE ASIA, ALASKA NEARER

Routes Outlined in Survey
By Institute Await
Official Approval

SOVIET TO DIRECT WAY

Prehistoric Entrance to Continents Followed

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23—(UP)—As the result of Soviet Russia's development of Arctic aviation, Alaska and the Aleutian Islands are destined again to become the bridge between Asia and the United States, the Institute of Pacific Relations believes.

In something of the same manner in which this route in prehistoric times permitted the peoples of Asia to find entrance to the American continent, the institute is convinced that the same route, only this time by air, is to become the bridge between the two continents.

According to an institute survey, the Soviet already has in view two alternate routes for its aerial service to the United States. One of these is from the most eastern tip of the Soviet north, Cape Chukotsk, across the Bering Strait to Nome. The second follows a more southern course, leaving Soviet soil in Kamchatka and following the course of the Commander and Aleutian Islands to Sevard, Alaska.

sion of lines to Seattle, although it is believed no negotiations have been started to date relative to terminal and landing facilities in the United States.

In the meantime, however, the institute has ascertained that the Soviet has been pushing the development of Arctic aviation to a point where it is certain that Alaska easily can be made the "drawbridge to Asia."

Reports which the institute have received from the Soviet's Northern Sea Route Administration show that during 1936 planes engaged in Polar flying during the navigation season traveled 1,398,

750 miles with 12,900 flying hours.

The number of passengers carried was 5,400 and the freight transported weighed 1,980,000 pounds.

Regular Service Established

In February of this year, the Soviet took one more advanced step in the development of Arctic navigation by establishing regular mail deliveries between Khabarovsk to Cape Wollen during the winter months when otherwise the inhabitants of that Arctic spot would be deprived of contact with the outside world.

Trial trips were made early in February and regular flights were begun Feb. 15.

The institute survey points out that Alaska already has a well developed aviation service. During the fiscal year ending June 30,

1936, the 79 planes in Alaska covered 2,130,929 miles, carried 16,982 passengers and 2,418,616 pounds of freight.

Linking of this service with a service by the Soviets would, the institute believes, contribute immensely to the development of the Far North and the Arctic regions.

Service Believed Feasible

The Soviet, with flights last summer to Alaska, the survey finds, already demonstrated the feasibility of such a service.

As yet, the institute is informed,

the Soviet has not decided whether the northern or the southern route would be better. The more northern route is shorter but slightly more expensive to survey and construct. However, the consensus of opinion in Soviet Russia is that the northern route is preferable, although not ideal, and some sections of it as now flown should be changed.

Decision also remains to be taken on such questions as whether the best flying time is in summer or winter, what type of planes is best adapted and what kind of freight could be carried most profitably.

The crux of the question, according to the institute, will be that of international agreement giving the Soviet terminal and landing facilities on the American continent, but pending that settlement, steady progress is being made in perfecting every aspect of Arctic and Polar aviation.

General News

The pupils of the Problems of Democracy acted as inquiring reporters last week. The Junior reporters were assigned the following question of which they got there information of former graduates.

"If you had just one more year of school left, what subject would you take". The Juniors found that Mathematics and English was the subjects preferred.

The Seniors were assigned the question, "After finishing high school if you couldn't go to college without working part time, would you advise trying to get more education or not.

The Seniors found that most everyone would advise trying to gain a higher education regardless of the circumstances.

The Problems of Democracy

class consisting of Juniors and Seniors portrayed a mock trial of the accused Malcolm Williams for the said murder of Tommu Title-toe.

The pupils were divided as jurymen, witnesses, judges, the doctor, coroner and others connected with the trial and murder. We found that Malcolm Williams was not guilty of the crime and so was freed.

We enjoyed our mock trial very much and we feel we have benefited greatly by this as we have learned the proceedings of a jury trial.

WHAT A WRECK

CONSTIPATION MAKES

Constipation can dull your whole life. Headaches, poor complexions —tired, lifeless days are often the results. Also, many serious diseases.

Get rid of common constipation

now with a ready-to-eat cereal—

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN brings you the two things your system needs to act

naturally: "bulk" and vitamin B to help tone the intestines.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water—forms a soft mass, and gently clears the intestines of wastes. It acts naturally.

Pills and drugs seldom cure constipation. You just keep on increasing the dose and switching from one laxative to another.

Just eat two tablespoons of

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day

three times daily if needed. Serv-as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in recipes. Sold by all grocers

OPEN LETTERS

TO CITY OFFICIALS

GENTLEMEN: The affair involving the suspension of two night patrolmen is ended. Both were given complete exoneration of the charges against them, and restored to their positions with full pay. At first the charges appeared serious. Testimony at hearings before the safety director and Civil Service Commission showed the officers' actions were only practices common in the department. The hearings revealed the urgent need for a definite set of regulations for the department, to be closely followed by both officials and patrolmen. Too many bosses seemed to be cause the worst condition existing. Such things as suspensions naturally cause misunderstandings. They can be cleared only by establishment of a clear set of rules to be followed by officers in carrying out their duties. Rules should be prepared as soon as possible, all members should be thoroughly acquainted with them. Every effort should be made to create harmony between officers and other city officials for the best interests of Circleville.

TO COUNTY ENGINEER

DEAR SIR: Considerable time and money has been spent in the development of the Canal park as a recreation center for Circleville and Pickaway county residents. The park is a splendid place for an outing and picnic, but some steps should be taken to eliminate dust on the Canal road. I trust this road will be one of the first to be oiled as soon as weather permits.

TO HOUSEWIVES

LADIES: How is your housecleaning coming along? Many of you have made progress already, while others of you are just getting ready to begin the Spring task. I urge you to exercise care in your work. Statistics prove that hundreds of accidents, many of them minor, nevertheless causing loss of time and costing doctors' bills, occur in the home especially during the housecleaning season. So "Have a care!"

TO PICKAWAY COUNTIANS

FOLK: Orators, chosen to represent the various Pickaway county schools, will arrive tonight in Memorial hall. Names of 12 boys and girls, winners of eliminations in their own schools, were announced as competitors. All will use different subjects, making the competition interesting, and not boresome to persons who will attend. Memorial hall provides much room for a large crowd. Several hundred parents and friends of the boys and girls are expected to be in the audience. All Circleville citizens who attend the oratorical contest are assured an interesting evening. Music has been placed at various points of the program to help provide diversity. The boys and girls competing have spent much time and effort in preparing their orations. I hope a capacity crowd will be present. The program begins at 8 o'clock.

TO JESSIE DRESBACH

MISS DRESBACH: Congratulations for the high score you attained in the general scholarship tests for seniors, conducted recently in the county high schools. It is, indeed, an honor to place so high in competition with pupils from throughout the county.

TO COUNCILMEN

GENTLEMEN: On several occasions I have suggested you install traffic lights at some dangerous intersections. You have not even mentioned the matter in your recent meetings. I grant you there are many important matters before your group, at the present time, but it is about time you paid some attention to the traffic light situation. Do something before someone is killed or injured. Remember the summer season brings our worst traffic mishaps.

TO SPORTSMEN

ANGLERS: Many times, Pickaway county sportsmen have considered various programs of improving county streams for fishing. They were "discussed" only, nothing has been done. I suggest at your meeting Tuesday night you outline a stream improvement program, get your members together on some of these bright Spring afternoons, and do some "improving." At least it is worth trying. Other clubs have sponsored such programs with great success.

TO MRS. GEORGE MARION

TEACHER: The tribute paid to you last Sunday by members of your Sunday school class is very deserving. For 25 years you have served as teacher of a class in the Methodist church, and for the same number of years that class has been one of the most active serving the institution. Much credit for its splendid success is due to you for the leadership you have shown. I hope you and your class the same success in the future that has blessed you in previous years.

TO COUNTY SCOUTERS

FRIENDS: Hundreds of dads of Pickaway county boys are missing a real opportunity by not taking advantage of Boy Scout work. Naturally, the scout organization is for boys, but many fathers could get a lot of good out of the work. Five troops are now becoming active in Pickaway county; many more boys are needed for their ranks. All the troops are under efficient, capable supervision with excellent scoutmasters in charge. Why not make Pickaway county one of the best in central Ohio in respect to scout work? The Girl Scout organization is just getting into action, but it, too, has made many forward steps that speak well for persons in charge.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

The rise of John L. Lewis, America's new labor leader, has been something phenomenal. To be sure, Lewis has been very influential in labor councils for a long time, but it is only recently that he has become a factor of not much less consequence, even politically speaking, than President Roosevelt.

In fact, he is spoken of as more than a presidential possibility in 40—as almost a probability. His "press conferences" are as well attended as those at the White House.

Unless the present tenant of the Executive mansion is drafted to again three years hence the I. O. O. F. chief takes on being a hot seat for the nomination at head of the major ticket for the coming term at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue.

What tag? How this ticket will be voted I haven't much idea. Old parties are disintegrated. A realignment is in the air.

D. R. is renominated, it will be, as a matter of fact.

habit, under his old label—the Democratic. However, it will not be the old Democratic party.

If someone like Lewis should be named, his party may have a modernized "monicker."

It may call itself "Progressive," or "Labor," or "Farmer-Labor," or some such name. Or it may stick to one of the older designations, no longer meaning anything. Or it may hit on some new name.

FARMER-LABOR? Farmer-Labor? Farmer? I'm not so sure that Lewis will appeal to the farmers.

There ought to be a community of interests between urban labor and agriculture, but there doesn't seem to be. The elements clash instead. The effort has been made to unite them, but it hasn't been very successful.

Lewis, to be an effective proletarian leader, will have to catch the farm, as well as the city labor vote.

there hasn't been one, each against each.

MUST JOIN TO WIN In the event of a showdown between farmer-labor sentiment and what may be described as bourgeois sentiment, I would gamble on the farmer-laborites.

But not if the farmers and urban laborers are split.

A triangular contest would be doubtful.

LEWIS' SPEED There is a fight within the ranks of labor.

Lewis has it coming his way. Can he get the farmers? That is problematic. So far as I know, he has not tried very hard as yet. He had better.

About six months ago I talked with Lewis as to his industrial organization program. It was a mere concept then. Today it is a formidable movement. Quick work, I'll say.

From that moment, in half a year, he has become a presidential possibility.

That is as to urban labor. Now, how as to agriculture, including tenantry?

CHAPTER 32

STUCKEY reached for the will, which Miss Harrington had replaced on his desk after copying, and, unfolding it, began to read. He read word for word until he came to a clause on the second page:

"In the event of my aforesaid niece, Jacqueline Mary Smith, at the time of my death being herself deceased and without issue the whole of my estate shall revert to my only other surviving relative, Millicent Agnes Maud Smith."

Charles realized instinctively that this was the clause which had supplied Lutman with his third alternative. He pondered for several moments, wondering exactly what could have been in the other man's mind.

And then, in a flash, the answer came. It was so obvious that he wondered why it had not occurred to him in the first place. The bare horror of the idea sent a chill down his spine and set every nerve in his body quivering. If Jacqueline were dead, the money would go to her mother. Jacqueline was the obstacle in the way of the success of Lutman's scheme. She had created an awkward situation by refusing to marry Jimmy. If she were dead...

Who could doubt that her mother, a woman of that drab uninteresting age when most women lose their sex attraction but refuse to admit it, even to themselves, would welcome with outstretched arms the specious advances of any smooth-tongued rogue? And Lutman was clever and more plausible than most of his kind; for him it would be easy.

Charles rose and began to pace the floor of his office. Here was a situation which he had not expected to arise. Up till now he had managed at least to postpone the evil day; he had had no very clear conception of how things were ultimately going to work out, but he had hoped for the best. But now here was a new and terrifying vista of possibilities. He must do something, and quickly. His tortured musings were interrupted by a knock at the door and the entrance of Bells.

"Captain Allwright is on the telephone, Mr. Stuckey."

"Allwright? I don't want to speak to him. Tell him to go to the devil."

"Yes, sir." Bells was moving from the room when Charles said: "No, put him through, Bells; I'll speak to him."

"Very good, sir," said Bells.

Mrs. Smith, finding that argument and appeals to reason were powerless to alter the determined set of Jacqueline's chin, did not abandon her efforts to shift it to a more attractive angle. For the rest of the day she remained plunged in a gloomy silence which was broken only by an occasional long-drawn sigh; her face wore an expression of patient resignation, and her eyes, when she glanced at her daughter, were filled with gentle reproach. Several times she opened her handbag, counted her money, and sighed as she replaced it, and once or twice, when she was fairly certain that her subtlety had attracted Jacqueline's attention, she furtively wiped her eyes with a wisp of handkerchief.

But it was heartbreaking work. Either Jacqueline was dreadfully unobservant and was unaware of the patient resignation, the gentle reproach, the sighing and the sniffs which were being lavished on her, or she had none of the natural feelings of a daughter toward her mother. After lunch she suddenly left her parent in the middle of a sigh, went into her bedroom, and locked the door.

There she tried to take a calm survey of the situation, to get away from it and look at it as a detached spectator and see if she could discover any meaning in it. It all seemed at first sight so meaningless. Jim Asson wanted to marry her; Colonel Lutman wanted him to marry—wanted it just as badly that it was a fair inference that he stood to gain by the marriage; but what joint object they could have was a complete mystery. She could only suppose that they were under the impression that Jim would be marrying money; but if that were the object, it was hard to see how the Colonel would benefit. Besides, after that affair with the check at Cobenzel, he could hardly be under any delusion as to the state of the family exchequer. But if they were not after money, what were they after?

She recalled all Miss Harrington had told her, but beyond the fact that both Jim and the Colonel were undoubtedly crooks of some kind, she found no clue to the mystery there. Ransack her brain as she would, her ingenuity could discover no form of crookedness which would supply a satisfactory explanation of the Colonel's anxiety for her to become Jim Asson's wife. Obviously the scheme, whatever it might be, depended chiefly on her.

Jacqueline smiled as she reached that point in her reflections. If she was essential to the scheme, there was one simple way of defeating it. If she were to disappear, the whole plan would suddenly collapse. The more she thought of it, the more she was convinced that it was the best way out of the whole affair. She would go away and get a job somewhere and tell no one, not even her mother, where she was. She would tell Charles, perhaps, but no one else, and until the whole affair had blown over her mother must be satisfied to get news of her from Charles.

She began to pack a bag, but before the task was finished she paused, frowning thoughtfully. That check, she had forgotten it for the moment, but she realized now that she could not afford to forget it. So long as there was the least chance of the marriage taking place, Colonel Lutman, she was sure, would make no use of it. He might threaten her with it, but to carry out his threat would obviously put an end to all prospects of the marriage. But it was a dangerous sort of weapon to leave in his hand if she carried out her plan and disappeared. There would be no reason then why he shouldn't use it if it suited his convenience.

Jacqueline finished her packing, put on her hat, and returned to the sitting room. Mrs. Smith, with the same look of patient resignation on her face, and her wisp of handkerchief still in her hand, was asleep on the couch, and Jacqueline, noiselessly closing the door, fetched her bag from the bedroom and went out. She would leave the bag, she decided, at the station cloakroom and pick it up in the morning, so that when she set out the next day for Manchester or Birmingham or wherever she might decide to go, her mother would have no cause to suspect. And then she must see Colonel Lutman. If she could not somehow persuade him to part with that check, she had packed her bag for nothing.

When Jacqueline, having deposited her bag in the cloakroom of St. Pancras station, reached the select thoroughfare in the neighborhood of Park Lane in which stood the block of luxuriously appointed service flats where Colonel Lutman resided, she had still no definite plan of campaign; and as she stepped into the spacious entrance hall and caught sight of the impressive uniformed attendant in the glass-partitioned office, she hesitated, suddenly realizing that there was not one chance in a hundred of Colonel Lutman parting with the check, and that she was only involving herself in another unpleasant interview for nothing. And then up went her chin at that defiant angle which was the trademark of her mother, and she strode in, asked for Colonel Lutman, gave her name, waited, with a strange thrill of excitement, while the attendant announced her on the telephone, and a few moments later was entering the Colonel's sitting room.

As she went into the room the Colonel rose from the depths of a big armchair and came forward to meet her with a genial smile. "This is charming of you, Jacqueline," he said cordially. "The charm of the unexpected, eh?"

DIET AND HEALTH

Medical Advice of Old Master Pertinent Today

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
AMONG THE ancient fathers of medicine, the Jewish physicians always have had a place of honor. Rabbi Ben Ezra, celebrated by Browning, Maimonides, and Isaac Ben Solimon, have a place in every account of old medicine.

The last struck the keynote which has been getting louder and stronger through the ages, when he said, "The most important duty of the physician is to prevent illness."

Other of his aphorisms were: "Most patients get better without much help from the physician by the power of nature."

"Employ only one medicine at a time in all your cases and note its effects carefully."

"Never speak unfavorably of other physicians. Every one of us has his lucky and unlucky hours."

The Talmud has been praised by many medical historians for its knowledge of many diseases and remedies, reflecting a very modern viewpoint. Ever is regarded as "Nature's effort to expel morbid matter and restore health."

A sudden change in diet was regarded as injurious, and this truth is reflected frequently in Hebrew writings (see Maimonides below). The Talmud was full of knowledge about childbirth; it advised Caesarean section on the living and dead mother in proper cases. Chama Ben Chanah inserted wooden and natural teeth as early as the second century B. C.

The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Digestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Bathing Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

The most famous commentator on the Talmud was Maimonides. He was born in Cordova, Spain, in 1135, but lived most of his life in the East, the physician to the great Sultan Saladin, prominent in chronicles of the Crusades.

Pertinent Today
In his comment on the Talmud, these aphorisms occur, which are as pertinent as the day they were written:

"Food should be taken always in the sitting position. There should be no riding nor walking, nor movements of the body until digestion is finished. The man who takes a walk or any strenuous occupation immediately after eating subjects himself to serious dangers of disease."

"Another axiom of medicine is that so long as a man is able to be active and vigorous, does not eat until he is overfull, and does not suffer from constipation, he is not liable to disease. Even such men, however, are much safer if they do not take food that may disagree with them."

"Most diseases come from either eating too much or partaking of unsuitable food. That was what Solomon meant with his proverb: 'He who puts a guard over his mouth and his tongue protects himself from many evils.' That is to say, whoever protects his mouth from the overindulgence in food and his tongue from unsuitable speech protects himself from many evils."

Eight Pitchers Get Work
in 14-11 Contest

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 23 — (UP) — A rookie southpaw, Lee Grissom, was to attempt to pitch the Cincinnati Reds to their first victory of the championship campaign as they opened a series with the Pittsburgh Pirates here today. Grissom was a member of the select group of Cincinnati pitchers who were not shell-shocked after the 14 to 11 drubbing the Reds took at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday.

The Reds and Cardinals forsook their roles of major league players and turned the final contest of their abbreviated series into a typical sandlot battle.

Manager Charley Dressen started this ace right-hander, Paul Derringer, but the big Kentuckian who won 19 contests for a fifth place club a year ago, was no match to St. Louis.

Others Shelled, Too
Derringer lasted only two and two thirds innings, during which time he gave up seven hits and six runs. After Derringer's departure, the pitching parade started.

Don Brennan, Al Hollinsworth and Gene Schott, divided the remainder of the burden.

Schott was on the firing line when the Cardinals scored three runs in the eighth and was charged with the defeat.

St. Johnson, a former Red, was in the box at the start of the contest for the Cardinals, but his luck was much like that of Derringer.

He gave way after he had retired two men in the fourth and then came Mike Ryba, Bill McGee and Jim Winford to toil for St. Louis.

Winford received credit for the triumph.

Cincinnati had one big round, the fourth, in which they sent 15 men to the plate and scored nine runs. Those markers coupled with one scored in the first inning, gave a run the Cards had gained in the second and six they had led up in the third.

The Reds retained their 10 to lead until the sixth, when the Cardinals pushed across four more runs to knot the count. Cincinnati came back in its half of the inning to get one run and go back to the lead.

The seventh was scoreless and then St. Louis got to Schott for three runs in the fatal eighth.

Streak Intact

WHEN Pedro Montanez, sensational Puerto Rican lightweight, punched out a clear-cut decision over the lightweight champion, Lou Ambers, in an over-the-weight bout in New York, he kept his winning streak intact, stretching it to 18 straight. Montanez now looms as the most promising of gent to lift Lou's crown.

HUBBELL SEEKS TO CONTINUE ON HIS WIN STRING

NEW YORK, April 23 — (UP) — The "sweet sixteen" string of victories turned in by Carl Hubbell at the end of the 1936 season may be extended to 17 today when the lanky southpaw unleashes his screwball against the Boston Bees in the Polo grounds inaugural.

If rain — which has washed out 12 games in the last two days — does not interfere, some 40,000 fans are expected to be on hand when Mayor LaGuardia tosses out the first ball to see the National league's most valuable player pick up where he left off last year.

The Giants' main hope of retaining their National league title rests on the left arm of the 33-year-old Oklahoma who has won 20 or more games for four consecutive years.

NEW YORK, April 23 — (UP) — Two former singles champions of the world will roll tonight in the American Bowling Congress tournament. They are Larry Shotwell of Cincinnati and Jerry Vidro of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Shotwell set an all-time ABC record series in 1930 by rolling 774, while Vidro captured the title in 1934 with a 721.

Shotwell's mark, made with games of 237, 270 and 267, was threatened earlier this week by Gene Gagliardi of Mount Vernon, N. Y., who started with 543 for the first two games but slipped badly in the third with 206 and a total of 749.

Everett Scott, Iron Man" of baseball until Lou Gehrig broke his 1,307 consecutive games, bowled with the Grace Construction team of Fort Wayne, Ind., last night. He turned in a series of 551.

NEW YORK, April 23 — (UP) — Ohio university and Marshall, the unbeaten leaders of the Buckeye conference baseball race, receive opportunities today and Saturday to pull away from the rest of the pack and turn the titular chase into a two-team affair.

Ohio U., the easy victor over the University of Dayton and Ohio Wesleyan, faces the University of Cincinnati at Athens today and meets Miami tomorrow.

Sande Preparing Two Horses for Big Derby

NEW YORK, April 23 — (UP) — Earl Sande, America's premier jockey a dozen years ago, hopes to saddle the winner of the 63rd Kentucky Derby, thus becoming the first jockey-trainer combination ever to win the coveted stakes.

Sande booted in three Derby winners—Zev, Flying Ebony and Gallant Fox—to victory during his sensational career as a rider, and is now sole conditioner of two worthy candidates in this year's renewal of the Churchill Downs classic.

Scenesifter and Fencing, two colts owned by Col. Maxwell Howard, are the hopefuls under Sande's care and have been on the Derby scene in Kentucky for more than a month.

Reports emanating from Kentucky indicate that Sande's charges have more than an outside chance of winning the May 8 prize.

Scenesifter Running
Scenesifter, a dark-skinned son of Sickle, out of Stagecraft, was one of the swiftest of the winter developments. He started six times this year, winning three races and finishing third once. As a 2 year-old the colt made seven unsuccessful trips to the races.

Scenesifter made all his 1937 starts to date at the Hialeah Park meeting in Florida. In his initial essay he ran fifth in a three-quarters mud race. He won his next start, graduating at 6 furlongs in 1:11 by leading Marfau to the wire by a dozen lengths. That was by far the best race he has yet shown.

Following his graduation the Detroit-owned colt came back in a handicap to be third to No Sir and Eli Yale at 7 furlongs. He was beaten just half a length and a neck for all the money.

Raced Poorly In Flamingo
On Feb. 10 he ran in an allowance event at 6 1/4 furlongs, beating off Tattered by four lengths in going-away fashion. That was his final conditioner for the Flamingo, which marked his first stake opportunity. In that mile and one furlong event he ran a dismal race, finishing seventh.

Sande sent Scenesifter back in a race at the same distance on March 6 and the colt covered the 9 panels in close to track record time of 1:48 2/5. He set all his own pace on that occasion and won by himself, 10 lengths in advance of Uneasy, with Jackie Westrope sitting still. Sande then shipped his charge to Louisville, where he awaits the bugle call that will bring what is expected to be a record field to the post in Col. Matt Winn's 3-year-old pageant.

Fencing Constant Campaigner
Fencing was more extensively campaigned than his stablemate this year and last. In 10 trips to the races in 1936 the chestnut Chance Shot-Psyché gelding won twice, finished second twice and was third once. This season out of seven starts he won two, was second once and once third. He was graduated from the maiden ranks at Belmont Park on May 27 last year, beating Advocate, Top Radio and Old Nassau in a four and one-half furlong sprint. He was beaten off in his next two starts, and came back to win a five-furlong affair at Aqueduct on June 30. He beat such good ones as Forty Winks, Tedious and Upper Berth on that occasion.

Fencing did not win another race until the Hialeah Park meeting last February after Sande acquired the gelding along with Scenesifter from Joseph B. Widener. The Handy Guy, after winning a 7-furlong event at the Florida track on March 5, then decided to point Fencing for the Blue Grass Special, and it is likely he will accompany Scenesifter to the post on May 8.

His team and two other Fort Wayne teams all got totals of 2,707. Scott retired from baseball ten years ago and now runs a bowling alley in Fort Wayne.

BAA TITLE AT STAKE
COLUMBUS, April 23 — (UP) — Ohio university and Marshall, the unbeaten leaders of the Buckeye conference baseball race, receive opportunities today and Saturday to pull away from the rest of the pack and turn the titular chase into a two-team affair.

About This And That In Many Sports

Track Meet Time

It's track meet time in Ohio high schools—Over at New Holland they are preparing for the annual county competition, which takes place on May 7.—The home school is favored, as usual, but it may have a tough time this year, especially since the points scored by girls and boys are added to determine the winner.—New Holland finished second to Good Hope in a tri-cornered meet, recently, with Williamsport included.—Good Hope had 52 points, New Holland 35 and Williamsport 32.—First were won by New Holland in 100-yard dash and 880-yard relay.—Williamsport was on top in high jump and shot put.—Over 1,000 youngsters are expected to participate in the annual Ohio U. relays to be run the day after the county meet.—Invitations have been sent to 500 schools in the Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia area.—The annual school competition at Mansfield is due, too, in a short time.

New Pro on Job

Pickaway Country Club golfers have a chance to meet their new professional, Willis Dickerson.—The young pro, married and father of a small child, took up his duties Friday.—He has done golf work at two Columbus courses, so knows his way around.—Club members can help make his work more interesting by patronizing him for whatever they need in the way of golfing equipment.

Wierd Ball Game

That ball game at Cincinnati, Thursday, was one of those things.—First the Reds were in the lead, and then the Cards were on top.—It proved, maybe, that neither club has the pitching staff necessary to become a pennant threat.—The Cardinals won, 14-11, largely because of Ducky Medwick's long double with the sacks loaded.—The blow tied the score at 10-all, and took the heart out of the Redlegs.—A deal may be made, and soon, for Lou Riggs, Cincinnatians being ready to string along with Jimmy Outlaw at third base.—The Redlegs want Pepper Martin, but so does St. Louis.

OLYMPIC STARS, OTHERS COMPETE IN PENN. RACES

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 — (UP) — A crack field of international titlists and Olympic stars among 3,000 college and schoolboy athletes start a mass assault on the record books today in the 43rd annual University of Pennsylvania relay carnival.

Intermittent showers yesterday and throughout the night dampened hopes of startling speed performances expected from the record holders who will compete in the 74-event, two-day program.

First event of the day, scheduled for 2 p. m., exhibits a fancy field of timber-toppers in the 400-meter hurdles, one of the two metric events retained on the program, other races will be run over the linear distances, with the exception of the 3000-meter steeplechase.

Second collegiate event to be decided today will be the quarter-mile college relay championship in which Occidental college, only California entry, will attempt to justify a 3,000 mile cross-country trip from Los Angeles. Occidental will run against Army, Fordham, Georgetown, Syracuse, Duke, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, and other eastern colleges.

Forrest (Spec) Towns will shoot at his world's 120-yard high hurdle record of 14.1 when he competes against such competent hurdlers as Dave Albritton, Ohio State, Allan Tomlich, Wayne university, and Bill Rossiter of Cornell.

DOUBLE TO FOOL THE FOE.
PENALTY doubles based on a good trump holding are likely to tell the declarer just how to play the hand. Doubles based on the contrary — high cards of other suits and therefore the ability to infer good trumps in your partner's hand — can have the effect of misleading the declarer and making him play you for the trumps, thereby protecting your partner's cards. The player who follows some blind rule about not doubling unless he has a probable trump trick is the only one who will not employ this principle.

West opened the bidding on this deal with 1-Club, North passed, East bid 1-Spade, South 2-Hearts, West 4-Spades and when it came around to South he decided to sacrifice at 5-Hearts.
Being vulnerable, West hesitated about going to five spades, as the success of that contract seemed improbable, but he reasoned that his only hope to offset the loss of his spade game was to set the opponent by misleading him as to the possible location of the missing cards. He therefore doubled the 5-Hearts.
The spade K was the opening lead, which South ruffed. His normal play of the trump suit would be to play the heart Ace and finesse the heart J, but with West doubling, he decided to finesse toward East and to South's surprise the trick was won by East. The club K was led, followed by another club to West. A spade was returned and the declarer missed the diamond toward East, feeling sure West must have that for his double.
Had South played the hand in the normal way, after the original lead, he would have made his contract.

EAGLES TO BURN $2,000 MORTGAGE AT DISTRICT RALLY SUNDAY, MAY 9

ELLNER, OTHER OFFICIALS MEET IN LOCAL AERIE

Six Lodges to Participate in Initiation in Charge of London Team

MAYOR GRAHAM IN CHARGE

Session For Public Planned After Ceremonies

Program for the district meeting of the Fraternal Order Eagles to be held in Memorial hall, May 9, was announced Thursday by Mayor W. J. Graham, chairman of the program committee of the local aerie.

The district meeting, a closed session, will begin at 1:30 p. m. Officers of the Cincinnati Aerie will have charge of opening the lodge. Initiation of candidates will be in charge of the London Aerie team. Emmett Passmore, Washington C. H., chairman of district 12, and C. A. Roberts, Springfield, director, will be in charge of the district meeting.

District 12 includes the lodge on the west side of Columbus, Springfield, Washington C. H., London, Hillsboro, Greenfield and Cincinnati.

Music Prepared

Following the district session, an open meeting will be held. All interested residents are invited to attend. The open meeting will be in charge of the local lodge officers. Charles Garner is president. Musical numbers will be provided by the Good Will Quartette of Clarkburg, and Hilaire Haacker, local accordionist. Ned and Nedra Ater, Frankfort, will give several dance numbers.

One of the highlights of the public meeting will be the burning of a $2,000 mortgage clearing the indebtedness of the local lodge. George M. Fitzpatrick, treasurer, will be in charge of this ceremony.

Mayor Graham will give the address of welcome. The principal address will be given by James H. Kellner, Columbus, state president. The program will close with brief remarks from district and local lodge officers.

Letter to the Editor

To the general public and home owners:

Our local paper published parts of the discussion between council, utility representatives and a committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Only parts of a proposed contract were discussed. That part that has held us up for nearly a year, and has caused the public to pay for light in their homes $10,000 more than they would have paid if a contract with a sliding rate downward had been accepted. This contract is slightly higher in the lower bracket of current consumption to the commercial user, but lowers in rate when larger amounts are used enabling our business men who light up and use this amount to a cent cheaper per kilowatt hour than the home owner.

This same practice is carried on by local business. If you are able to buy canned goods by the case or other goods in large quantities you get it cheaper than by the can or single item.

Then, again, this same contract is signed and in effect in nearly all of the cities this company serves. Can we reasonably expect cheaper rates than their other customers.

We continue to pay a higher rate than we should until a contract is made. We have since the first of June, 1936, paid $10,000 more than we should and will continue to pay until a contract is entered into.

What do you wish? Speak to your councilman.

Frank A. Marion, councilman-at-large and chairman of the committee of the whole in the light contract.

AFTER
MAY 1
DR. E. L. MONTGOMERY will have his offices at

STATE TOBACCO BILL IS VOTED

Act to Stabilize Price And Production Wins House Approval

COLUMBUS, April 23—(UP)—A bill designed to stabilize tobacco production and prices and fix marketing quotas, passed by the house 106 to 6, awaited senate action today.

The bill, introduced by Rep. William H. Williams, D., Darke, was approved with little debate after adoption of an amendment providing the proposed act shall be administered by the Ohio Agricultural Conservation Committee which, sponsors said, is at present administering the federal soil conservation program in Ohio. The bill originally provided for the creation of a new commission.

The bill divides the state into eight districts as follows:

Cigar-filler tobacco districts: 1) Darke county, 2) Miami and Shelby, 3) Preble and Butler, 4) Montgomery, Warren and Greene.

Burley tobacco districts: 5) Butler, Hamilton, Warren, Greene, Clinton, Clermont and Highland, 6) Brown, 7) Adams, 8) Ross, Pike, Scioto, Lawrence, Gallia, Jackson, Vinton, Meigs, Monroe and Noble.

The committee would fix quotas for each farm based on previous production. Producers would be permitted to dispose of surpluses on payment of a fee to the commission.

DENHARDT CASE STARTS FRIDAY IN NEW CASTLE

First Witnesses To Be Called Following Statements

DEFENSE MOVE BALKED

Testimony of Farmer May Determine Outcome

NEW CASTLE, Ky., April 23—(UP)—First witnesses were called today in the trial of Brigadier General Henry E. Denhardt, soldier-politician charged with the murder of a pretty widow.

Commonwealth attorneys presented the first of the evidence by which they hope to establish that the 61-year-old former lieutenant governor shot Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor to death on a lonely Henry county road the night of November 6.

The jury of bronzed farmers and tradesmen to try the general was sworn at sunset last night despite a last-minute attempt by the defense to quash the indictment against him on a technicality which Circuit Judge Charles C. Marshall briskly brushed aside.

Statements Prepared

Opening statements were expected to consume the morning session. They will give the first official version of what Commonwealth Prosecutor H. Benton Kinsolving intends to prove in this trial which has ramifications extending into the political and social life of proud Kentucky.

Previously only the barest outline, based to some extent on rumor, has been available. Admitted facts are that Denhardt passed the fatal day and part of the evening with Mrs. Taylor, to whom he was engaged to marry over the objections of her family; and that she died of a bullet from his .45 caliber service revolver.

Beyond these lies a no man's land of contention between defense and prosecution.

Aside from technicians, who will present the state's evidence on blood tests and ballistics—some of it to be contradicted by defense experts—the chief witness for the commonwealth is to be a farmer named George Baker, who heard the fatal shot and helped search for the body.

On his testimony, and how it stands up under cross-examination, will depend not only a strong portion of the state's case but perhaps Denhardt's alibi, based on a gun-like sound which followed the

BRITISH SHIPS RUN BLOCKADE

Three Steamers, Laden With Food, Relieve Bilbao's Hungry Populace

BILBAO, Spain, April 23—(UP)—Three British ships—the Stanbrook, Hamsterley and McGregor—ran the insurgent naval blockade today with many tons of food for hungry Bilbao.

While nationalist warships cruised up and down the Bay of Biscay seeking to intercept them, the three steamers slipped through the night, all lights out, in a full-speed run from Saint Jean De Luz, France.

Captain William Brance of the Stanbrook led. His vessel was the only one of the three equipped with wireless but it was not used, lest it betray them to the waiting warships.

Behind the Stanbrook was the McGregor, out of Ardrossan, Scotland, with a load of beans and potatoes under command of Captain Owen "Cornob" Jones, and the Hamsterley, of Newcastle, England, with a cargo of condensed milk and other foods, commanded by Captain John Still.

Hundreds of cheering citizens welcomed the ships as they began discharging their cargoes.

Women stevedores, who normally work on Bilbao's waterfront, began unloading the vessels.

Nearly 100,000 refugees from Irun and San Sebastian, burned out of their homes last summer by the nationalist troops of Gen. Emilio Mola, have been on short rations, along with the rest of Bilbao's civilian population, since Mola began his drive on the Basque capital. The food shortage was admitted acute by basque loyalist authorities.

SHANK NAMED SECRETARY
COLUMBUS, April 23—(UP)—Charles J. Schaber, utilities commission chairman, today announced appointment of Harry Shank, of Urbana, as commission secretary at an annual salary of $3600. The appointment is effective May 1. Shank will fill a vacancy which has existed since State Treasurer Clarence H. Knisley, former secretary, resigned to take up his elective duties. Shank has recently been employed in Treasurer Knisley's department.

SALES RECEIPTS OFF

COLUMBUS, April 23—(UP)—After averaging above the million mark for the last several weeks, sales tax collections for the week ended April 10 dropped to $876,924, State Treasurer Clarence H. Knisley reported today.

HAHN ESTATE $229,145
TOLEDO, April 23—(UP)—The late George P. Hahn, judge of the U. S. district court here, left an estate valued at $229,145, an appraisal on file in probate court today showed. The estate, in stocks, bonds and cash, is left to his widow and children.
